Editorial Comment

AND THE SAME TO YOU, CONGRESSMAN HARLAN HAGEN

Dear Harlan:

I was flattered and pleased to receive your questionnaire and to know that in this election year you want my opinion on certain vital issues.

But, Congressman, you must have me mixed up with someone. My name is not Postal Patron — Local.

It may be that the postmaster in my town, who you say you asked to deliver your questionnaire, misdirected it. I thought that possibly I could be of assistance, so I inquired up and down my street in case Postal Patron — Local had just moved in, but I could find no one by that name.

And I think you should know there is quite a family of Postal Patron — Local in Porterville not receiving their mail. I found several of your questionnaires on the floor of the postoffice lobby, and when I picked them up and asked one of the postal clerks to please put them in Postal Patron — Local's box, you should have heard what he said.

Thank you for your kind offer of extra copies of your questionnaire for other members of my family who want to express their opinions. But I've checked them all and neither my wife nor my daughters are named Postal Patron — Local, so it looks like you must have the wrong people.

But I do have a questionnaire of my own that I would like to have you fill out, and I would greatly appreciate your reflecting upon the following questions which I will face during the coming election, and advising me of your position as one of the people you have the privilege of representing in Washington.

QUESTIONNAIRE

1. Are you a
Republican..... Democrat..... Independent..... Prohibitionist.....
2. What is your occupation. (Some of us out here often wonder)

3. Do you approve use of this questionnaire for sampling your opinion. (If you do, please arrange with those friendly postmasters to deliver it to you, without postage, at taxpayer expense.)

4. Do you favor new legislation making it more convenient for Congressmen to beat a drunk rap through congressional immunity.

5. Do you favor a bill providing for faster ambulance service for Congressmen who get rolled in Washington alleys.

6. How's things these days with Billie Sol Estes.

If, after completing this questionnaire, you have additional comments, please write them here.

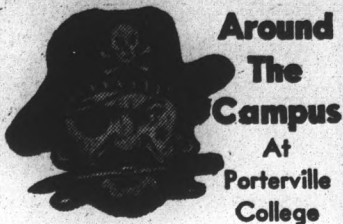

It is important to me that I have your opinion on these questions.

Sincerely Yours,

Bill Rodgers

P. S.

Everything is all right now, Harlan. A fellow just came in and picked up your questionnaire. Said his name was Postal Patron — Local.

The college students scattered to the four winds last week in search of high adventure during their Easter vacation. A hardy band of student council members journeyed down to San Diego, however, on school business. The occasion was the California Junior College Student Government Association state convention.

You may recall my series of columns on the CJCSGA Area 5 conference held here at PC last March. This San Diego convention was the same thing on a statewide level. Approximately 400 delegates were there in eight delegations from CJCSGA areas throughout the state. Porterville made up one-tenth of the Area 5 delegation and one eightieth of the entire total of delegates. The Porterville delegation was made up of Bill Fink, Jim Trask, Dave Richardson, Gary Reid, Linda LaPresta, and Carol Ann Moore.

The delegates left Thursday morning and arrived at San Diego for the opening of the convention at one o'clock. The general workshop (committee) meeting was held on Thursday, right after the opening ceremonies.

The next day, Friday, was devoted to the meetings of the individual workshops. On Saturday, the General Assembly met to vote on the resolutions and recommendations drafted by the workshops the previous day.

It had been expected that the delegates would vote in blocs, each delegation voting substantially the same. As one delegate pointed out to me, this was not the case. The delegates voted as 400 individuals rather than 80 schools or eight districts. The general consensus among the delegates I talked to was that this was as it should have been.

Several resolutions were passed at this General Session that had an influence on Porterville college. One of the causes near and (Continued On Page 7)

NEW BOOKS LISTED IN CITY LIBRARY

AFTER JULIUS, by Elizabeth Howard, is in the best tradition of entertaining, civilized, ironic English novels. Twenty years after Dunkirk, an English widow and her two daughters recall how they felt when the husband and father was killed. The widow had been relieved, because she thought it freed her for her lover. The two daughters had been bereft and shocked. Now, after a long time, the lover has returned. The younger daughter, a reader in a publishing house, is attracted to a young poet, and the elder daughter has just shed her current man. The author embroiders this delicate situation with some richly comic scenes, amusing dialog and wonderful characterizations.

A long chronicle of a South African Jewish family, some of whom migrate to Israel after World War II, is titled THE BEGINNERS, by Dan Jacobson (The Literary Guild selection for March). There are some highly dramatic episodes — for instance, a sadistic initiation scene in a South African university. The picture of a prosperous part of the Jewish minority in South Africa is interesting, but I had a problem keeping up with all of the characters, whom I thought seldom showed any real vitality.

"Froth, sex and frolic with an old hand, no matter how frivolous, is often more rewarding than war and peace with an apprentice novelist, and this flummery is no exception! So says one reviewer about J. B. Priestley's now novel, SIR MICHAEL AND SIR GEORGE. This time the target is bureaucratic bungling in the field of British arts, with two rival mastodons crashing in the tiny arena of government counselling for the arts. Sir Michael, dilettante, dashing, heads COMSA, while Sir George, stodgy, painfully susceptible to jolts from the untoward, captains DISCUS. The hearty mutual hatred is enjoyed and exploited by one Tim Kemp, a veritable pixie of a man, well oiled in gil, luxuriantly in love with all mankind. Priestly gets these people, and others, into all sorts of "interesting" situations, from which they all emerge and live happily ever after.

Realism, humanism, satire, and even caricature blend in a gripping, sophisticated novel of violence, suspense, love, despair, and treachery set in dictator-run, terror-ridden Haiti, titled THE COMEDIANS, by the master, Graham Greene. Narrator Brown gives up security in the U.S. to return to the virtually deserted hotel he owns in Haiti and a love affair of singular unpredictability. With his contacts among the Haitians and recently acquired shipboard acquaintances, Brown is soon enmeshed in succession of harrowing events.

TRUMAN CLEVINGER AND GENE WISE ACCEPT CHAIRMANSHIP OF COUNTY-WIDE BOB WILEY FOR SHERIFF COMMITTEE

VISALIA, Apr. 14 — Truman Clevenger, a Visalia insurance man and former big league baseball player, and Gene Wise, a former Tulare County Veterans' Service officer and former Chief Criminal Sheriff's deputy, have been named County co-chairman of the campaign to elect Bob Wiley, of Porterville, as Tulare County sheriff. Clevenger was a pitcher for the New York Yankees in the 1961-62 World series.

Wise served with the County of Tulare from April 1, 1934, through April, 1963, in various capacities. He was Chief Criminal deputy for Ben Gurr, Tulare County sheriff in 1947-1951.

In accepting the appointment as co-chairman of the Wiley for Sheriff committee, Wise said, "New vigor and new ideas are needed in the office of Tulare County sheriff. Changes should be effected in administrative positions through recognition of the abilities and qualifications of existing personnel in the Tulare County Sheriff's department."

"Personnel and equipment should be organized to provide maximum protection to all areas of the county, and cooperation with all law enforcement agencies is needed to provide justice and to protect the welfare of all the citizens of Tulare County."

Clevenger said, "Bob Wiley has pledged to establish programs within the Sheriff's department for delinquency prevention, protection and education of the youth of Tulare county. These programs are to be available to schools and civic groups throughout the county.

"Wiley is a graduate of the American Law college, he is experienced in law enforcement, he has the enthusiasm and ability to bring about the changes that are needed in the office of Tulare County sheriff."

NEW GAME BIRD TO BE TRIED IN DESERT

SACRAMENTO, Apr. 14 — A new game bird will make its appearance in California this month, the Department of Fish and Game reports, and the hope is that some day it will be a permanent resident of the semi-arid desert regions of southern California.

The bird is the crested tinamou, a native of Argentina and Chile. The State Fish and Game commission has approved the DFG's request to import the birds, rear them at the Vacaville Game farm, and eventually introduce them in-

More Cotton Export To India

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 14 — The prospect of vastly more U.S. cotton being exported to India under the Food for Peace program was reviewed at the White House this week by Congressmen Harlan Hagen of Hanford, B. F. Sisk of Fresno, and John Tunney of Riverside, and John Arthur Reynolds, Fresno, executive vice president of the Western Cotton Growers association. The delegation met with Harry McPherson, special assistant to President Johnson. They discussed a long range proposal under which Indian farmers could plant more acres of wheat and food items and less acres of cotton with the U.S. making up the difference in cotton from its bulging stockpile.

Considered a fine sporting bird in Argentina, the crested tinamou grows to the size of a hen pheasant, about 1½ pounds in weight at maturity. It resembles a guinea hen from the rear and a roadrunner from the front. It is grey-brown with many tawny spots and black bars on the back. True to its name, it has a long crest of eight to 12 filamentous plumes.

There is much to be said for gardening this time of year. It is certainly the time for growing the finest weeds, the best aphids, and some really outstanding mildew. It even brings out the hungriest gophers which in turn select your best plants for their morning meal. Of course Mother Nature offsets this by hanging beautiful flowers and fresh green foliage on everything in order to keep you hooked.

Man has devised some fair weed controls to aid your cause and even some you can use around flowers and bushes. A new one is called Contact and is fairly clean along with not being too expensive. Also weed-b-gon now comes in a spray bomb to spray broad leaved weeds such as dandelions and bur clover. All you need is a good eye and a stout thumb.

There are combination sprays and dusts for removing aphids and mildew with the same spraying. We suggest you wash all the bugs off that you can first and then either spray or dust afterwards. This saves spray material along with doing a better job. Sometimes if mildew is severe it helps to apply soil sulfur generously around the root area. This is picked up by the plant and sort of works from the inside out.

Queen and attendants will be announced following the judging, and a potluck luncheon will be served. Judges will be Mrs. Ray Cerniga, of Porterville, and Gordon Walters, of Bakersfield.

Queen contestants must check in their tickets on April 23 with either Mrs. Ray Taylor or Mrs. Richard O'Dell, co-chairmen of the queen contest.

Annual rodeo dance is set this year for the Porterville armory, Saturday evening, April 30, with Bobby Jobe and his Wawkeen Country Boys to provide music from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. Dance chairman is Tom Morrison.

Overhead rodeo banners in the Porterville downtown business district will go up Saturday.

CONSTITUTION REPORT NOW AVAILABLE

SACRAMENTO, Apr. 14 — Assemblyman Gordon Duffy (Tulare-Kings counties) has announced that the report of the California Constitution Revision commission is available for the interested citizens. "The Commission has done an excellent job of presenting the programs facing California with its antiquated Constitution," Duffy said, adding that the commission's report, a 200 page publication, is the result of a two year study by 56 outstanding citizens in California.

Duffy expressed hope that Governor Edmond G. Brown would place the subject of the revision of the Constitution on special call. He pointed out that the California Constitution has been amended over 300 times and is 10 times the length of the Federal constitution. Of all the states, only the constitution of Louisiana exceeds it in sheer bulk.

The local legislator said that the Federal constitution establishes basic political concepts, an outline of government organizations, and sets up government powers.

California's existing constitution covers many unneeded subjects; as examples, Duffy cited a provision in the California constitution limiting the length of wrestling matches, and a provision setting a method of taxing nut trees.

Copies of the report of the Constitution Revision commission may be obtained without charge by writing to Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, 422 North Dooty street, Hanford, California.

LOOKING FOR A CINCH BET?
HARP PICKS BASEBALL WINNERS

Vice-President Hubert Humphrey started it all Monday when he wound up and tossed out a pitch that can best be described as an "Annie, Annie, over" lob. That pitch officially opened the 1966 baseball season, the one with the new look.

The look starts here in California where the old Los Angeles Angels took on the name of "California Angels" late last season and then whipped up a brand new stadium in Anaheim for the new season. The look extends across the nation into the heart of the old south as the barnstorming Boston-Milwaukee Braves take up summer residence in Atlanta, Georgia.

There is also a new look in New York where Casey Stengel will no longer be poised on the top step of the dugout wondering "Can anyone play this game." Ol' Case will be missed. His rambling monologues were things of irrelevant beauty that often left the listener hopelessly confused.

But as baseball lost a great showman it regained another when Leo Durocher returned as manager of the Chicago Cubs. Durocher's Cubs won't take a title this year, but they will be alive and baseball will hear a lot from the Lip. Leo insults people, kicks umpires, and I'll take him over a dozen Ralph Houks.

The league races figure to be tough. The National league is, once again, the scene of a six month dog fight. Almost anyone could win it. I'll take the Dodgers. They have the same horses as last year and they are a young team at most positions. But, the Dodgers must play almost flawless baseball to win. If they get careless they could slip as far as third place. San Francisco, with new pitching and a healthy Orlando Cepeda will be very rugged. They could bomb just anyone, but there

LEMOORE BASE

LEMOORE, Apr. 14 — A 45-minute performance by The Blue Angels, the Navy's world-famous flight demonstration team, will highlight "the greatest air show ever presented in the San Joaquin valley", when the Naval Air Station at Lemoore holds an Open House on Sunday, May 1.

The event is open to all visitors. Static displays will include some of the Navy's newest aircraft, plus small arms, survival equipment, ejection seat training equipment, food preparation gear, photography items and other material used by the Navy.

A number of aerial events are scheduled for the show that will start at noon. Gates will open to the public at 10 a.m., and visitors are invited to attend Divine Services in the new base chapel.

is a question mark on just how effective their pitching will be.

In the American league I have to take Minnesota again. The Twins have too much power for the rest of the league and their pitching has been good enough. After Minnesota the picture gets very much out of focus. Chicago finished second last year and they have shown plenty of class in spring training.

FARM PRICES
MOSTLY HIGHER IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Apr. 14 — Prices received by California farmers, as of March 15, were mostly higher than last month and a year ago, according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service. Prices received for beef cattle, calves, milk cows, and chickens were sharply higher than a month earlier, while oats, dry beans, alfalfa seed, lemons, and lambs also made substantial gains.

Beef cattle prices were the best since 1959, and calves were the highest since 1960. Chicken prices as broilers reached the highest level since 1960. Hog prices declined from last month's peak but remained highest for the month since 1954. Moderate to substantial declines were reported for corn, potatoes, hay, and oranges. Egg prices held steady at the highest for month since 1958.

Compared with a year ago sharp increases were recorded for alfalfa seed, all meat animals, milk cows, chickens, and eggs, while wheat, barley, beans, hay, milk, wool, and turkeys also made substantial gains. Partly offsetting were lower prices for corn, oats, sorghum grain, potatoes, cotton lint, cottonseed, and citrus fruits.

Around The Campus

dear to a certain segment of the campus denizens, concerns the legal status of the Junior Colleges here in California.

Under existing legislation, junior colleges are considered secondary schools. This puts them on a level with the California high schools. A lot of people out here would like to see this state of affairs changed — if for no other reason than to rid the campus of those irritating "Porterville Union High School AND COLLEGE" sten-cils that adorn everything not nailed down.

Those who favor taking JCs out of the secondary school class got a boost when the San Diego conference voted to go on record as favoring the classification of junior colleges with four-year institutions.

The nature of the CJCSGA is such that it has very little real power outside the organization itself. Its voice has some carrying power in California educational circles, however, and we just might see some action on this classification subject before the next convention in San Francisco this December.

It would be considered a welcome change by the majority of the students out here.

ART FALCONER BACK FROM MEETING

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 14 — Art Falconer, Porterville rancher and president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Visalia, returned recently from Santa Cruz where he attended a regional meeting of stockholders of the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley.

SO-CALLED grape strikers from Delano put on this mob scene at the state capitol on Easter Sunday, after a very few walked all or part way to Sacramento from Delano. Augmenting the group on the capitol grounds were union members, civil rights people, clergymen, students, bleeding hearts, politicians, and what have you. Church people in Porterville who have and who are supporting Hartmire's Migrant Ministry - a leading agitation influence in the Delano trouble - should be proud of the deeply religious sign shown in the above picture, "For His Truth Goes Marching On. Huelga." The Mexican-American striker who walked barefoot into Sacramento on Easter Sunday carrying a cross covered with flowers; the man who carried the Virgin of Guadalupe banner; the man who carried the Mexican flag; the followers who chant that the Delano trouble and the march to Sacramento are another glorious Mexican revolution, should have walked to Mexico City instead of Sacramento, then stayed there. Saddest part of the entire Delano trouble is the mongering of hate against farmers, the sucking of misguided religious people into a phony situation, the maligning by reference of the fine Mexican-American citizens in our valley, the failure of people outside our area to understand that all the sound and fury is designed to establish another unit of political power under which every person who works on a farm will be forced to belong to, and pay dues to a union, and, we suspect, to eventually put farms under even stronger government control.
